THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

President McKinley's annual message has received at the hands of the press, generally, a most favorable comment. It has been pronounced very modest, even compared with other messages of the President. To the average reader it has appeared as a business-like statement of important events that have occurred during the present year, and a brief reference to our national affairs generally. There has been a disposition with a few papers, like the New York Herald, to make unfavorable criticisms upon the message. That paper in speaking of it says: "True to his habit of throwing down the reins, President McKinley in this inspiring moment of our history has nothing to suggest, take no initiative, strikes the keynote of no new policy, he merely collates a dreary report presenting numerous facts, and leaves the rest to Congress and to God."

Upon the whole the message has been received by the public as a patriotic declaration of the views of our Chief Magistrate and will be able to win the hearty approval of the mass of the people. It was wise in President McKinley to avoid announcing at this time any policy in regard to the Philippine Islands, before the treaty with Spain had been signed by the Peace Commission, now sitting at Paris and before the ratification of that treaty by the Senate. The suggestion of a policy by the President at this time would be premature and injudicious. When the islands have become ours in fact and a treaty is ratified there can be no doubt that Mr. McKinley will give expression to his views in the usual decided manner in which he has expressed himself upon every important question that has arisen during his administration. At the beginning of his administration, when he gave his views on the Cuban question, he was criticized by the opposition press and politicians, who declared that he did not have any decided convictions upon that question, or was afraid to express them.
His caution and conservatism were pronounced by hostile Democracy, cowardice the sequel, however, showed that Mr.
McKinley not only held positive convictions but when the time came and necessity demanded he could express and execute his views. So will it be in connection with the Philippine question. The people have seen enough of Mr. McKinley to have complete faith in his intelligence, courage and patriotism, and will uphold him in every step he takes for the advancement and progress of the nation. It is most gratifying to note that the President in his message gives an unequalled endorsement and approval to sound money.
In this position he will be sustained not only by those who elected him President in 1896 but by many others who did not agree with him in his views that year.

Colonel Roosevelt's favorite hero is Lincoln, whom he calls "the greatest American of the nineteenth century."

The two daughters and only children of Commander William B. Cushing, of Albany, are living quietly at Fredonia, N. Y.

Emma Calve's real name is Emma Roumer, and she was born at Decaturville in 1866. She was brought up in a convent and during her first season as a singer got $140 a month.

Miss Elizabeth Geddes, the nurse who received the Royal Red Cross for her services at Omdurman, is a member of the National Society for Aid to sick and wounded in the war.

Senator Morrill, of Vermont, is back at his Washington home and expresses himself as much refreshed and benefitted by his stay in the Green Mountains. Though 88 years old, he says he feels thirty years young.

P. Tecumseh Sherman, of the New York Board of Aldermen, seems to inherit something of the bluntness of speech which characterized his father, the General. At a recent session, he said, "I believe the less frequently this lawless board meets the better it will be for the city."

Captain Chatwick's seamanship is wonderful. When, during the great storm of February 13, 1889, his ship, the Yorktown, broke her steering gear, a hundred miles from the Azores, and her destruction in a blinding tempest, which sent the waves mountain-high, seemed only a question of a few hours, he was almost the only man aboard who did not lose his head, and himself brought her safe to port, with only a sea-anchor made of a boat filled with water to hold the vessel on her course.

Do you come to the close of the day thoroughly exhausted?
Does this continue day after day, possibly week after week?
Perhaps you are even too exhausted to sleep. Then something is wrong. All these things indicate that you are suffering from nervous exhaustion. Your nerves need feeding and your blood enriching.

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, contains just the remedies to meet these wants. The cod-liver oil gives the needed strength, enriches the blood, feeds the nerves, and the hypo-phosphites give them tone and vigor. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion.

SOMETHING MORE THAN AMBITION.

Hon. John Sherman said: "I sympathize with Aguinaldo in his ambition to found a republic in the China Sea, near the equator, and hope he may become the Washington of a new nation, absolutely free from European and American influence."

Mr. Sherman seems to forget that it takes something besides ambition to make a Washington. Among the essentials for such a character as that of Washington are courage, extraordinary good sense, sublime patriotism and absolute honesty. There can be no doubt that Aguinaldo has the ambition. We doubt whether he has the courage, good sense and true patriotism. If report be true he is not honest, for he was bribed by Spain to leave his native land, then returned with the American fleet to help organize a rebellion he had been bribed to abandon. Mr. Sherman shows that he has no just conception of the true situation in the Philippines, when he suggests that there is a remote possibility of Agui-naldo developing a character anything like that of our grand George Washington.

There is every indication that there will be a row in the Democratic camp over the question of who shall be the leader of that party in the next Congress. It looks like Barry, of Texas, will be selected for the leadership, which will afford a picnic for Tom Reed and the Republicans of the House.

America is for Peace, and Can Fight for It.
St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Peace is the normal condition of the United States. This country believes in international courtesy, fairness and open dealing, not in the diplomacy of furtive cunning and sinister stratagems. Americans are as direct in war as in other discussions that devolve upon them. Our army at Santiago pushed at once to the front and tried conclusions with rifles. Admiral Dewey defied torpedoes and forts and as soon as it was light enough engaged the enemy's fleet in its chosen position. The troops at Manila took the enemy's works by assault. The ships nearest Cavera's fleet when it came out of the harbor did not wait for a massed formation, but attacked singly on the shortest lines. What the French official characterizes as a lack of manners turns out on examination to be straightforwardness, a decisive purpose when the time comes to act. Yet it is the earnest desire of the American people to be at peace with the world, to deal with all frankly and honestly, to avoid rashness or wanton aggression, and to keep out of grounded diplomacy, for which they have neither liking nor adaptiveness.
